Project Overview: 2020 Graduation Self-Portrait

Following my graduation in 2020, I wanted to create a meaningful piece of art to commemorate my journey and the goals I was working toward. Using a personal photograph as a reference, I designed a stylized self-portrait incorporating a color palette of blacks, grays, and yellows. This artwork was created using Photoshop and Adobe Illustrator, allowing me to blend digital illustration techniques with personal expression.

This project served as both a creative endeavor and a symbolic representation of my achievements, marking a significant milestone in my artistic and personal growth.